

The Contemplative Minister:

Leading from the Still Centre

Thursday 17 May 2018

10.00 a.m. – 4.00 p.m.

Venue: The Harnhill Centre

Harnhill, Cirencester, Gloucestershire, GL7 5PX

Led by: Ian Cowley

Why do so many clergy feel under constant pressure in ministry? Why do some experience burnout?

During this day of reflection, Ian will help us to review our model of ministry and explore how we can recapture its contemplative heart.

The day has been designed particularly with those in parish ministry in mind.

Ian Cowley is an Anglican priest who has served in parish ministry in South Africa, Sheffield, Cambridge and Peterborough. He is author of four books on spirituality, discipleship and the local church. From 2008 to 2016, he was Co-ordinator of Spirituality and Vocations in the Diocese of Salisbury, when he developed the material for this workshop and his book of the same title. He has recently retired from full time ministry and continues to write and teach, and enjoy time to pursue recreational interests.

Booking Form

Cost: £15, which includes the cost of refreshments and a sandwich lunch.

The maximum number of places is 24.

The closing date for bookings is Monday, 30th April.

Please include full payment with your booking form*.

Title:
Preferred Christian Name:
Surname:
Address:
Postcode:
Tel:
Email:
Church:
Dietary Restrictions:
Payment (£15)

Please send the booking form and payment (Cheques payable to: The Harnhill Centre) to:

The Revd. Duncan Munro
Hosanna House
43, Cudnall Street
Charlton Kings
Cheltenham
GL53 8HL [E: duncan.munro@munrostrategic.co.uk]

 For Clergy, Readers and Licensed Lay Workers in the Diocese of Gloucester with available funds in their CMD account, the cost of this event will be paid for by the diocese. If you are eligible, have sufficient funds in your account, and wish the organisers to recover the £15 cost from the diocese, please tick the box below in lieu of sending payment with the booking form.*

CMD Account